

Frequently Asked Questions

About ServePath:

What type of business is ServePath?

ServePath is a leader in the dedicated and grid server hosting services. We offer greener computing solutions, dedicated and grid-based servers, streaming media services, and server collocation. We provide hardware and software solutions that are changing the way the server hosting business works.

Where are your corporate headquarters located?

We are located on the Embarcadero in downtown San Francisco, right under the Bay Bridge. We have stunning views, quick access to public transportation, plenty of good food to eat and quick access to coffee.

What are your scheduled hours of operation?

ServePath operates 24/7/365, so there is always someone available. We offer flexible work schedules depending on our business needs and our employee's preferences.

Where can I find information on your products?

You can find all of our product information at our different websites:

Servepath.com
UpStreamNetworks.com
ColoServe.com
GoGrid.com

What are you doing to be a community oriented and environmentally friendly employer?

ServePath is an industry leader in grid computing. By leveraging software to provide virtual server solutions, we can cut our carbon footprint by 80%. We are also utilizing new greener processors that only use 50% of the resources older models used to use. ServePath also offers commuter benefits, recycling bins, toy drives, charity drives and so much more!